Citizens Graduate from City's Inaugural Gov't 101 Class

The inaugural City Government 101 Class of 2010 graduated 22 citizens on May 10, at a ceremony held in the Valdosta Council Chambers, at City Hall.

The program stems from a Mayor and City Council goal adopted last year to "initiate a program for citizen education and to engage citizen involvement to be known as the Valdosta City Government 101 Program."

Applications for the program were accepted from December 2009 through January 2010. The program was divided into six Monday sessions, from April 5 to May 10, which included presentations on the following topics and departments: program orientation, public safety, municipal court, engineering, public works, utilities, financial administration, industrial and economic development, community development, planning and zoning, neighborhood development, a facilities tour and class graduation.

Inaugural Class Graduates

Local Youth Behind the Anti-Litter Slogan, Campaign

City Councilman James Wright stands next to Jediah Grey, admiring the sign that features an anti-litter slogan created by Grey in a 4th grade contest. Grey, now a junior at Valdosta High School, is proud that the slogan is helping to decrease litter in the city limits.

Nearly 100 signs promoting the "Please Don't Litter, Make Valdosta Glitter" campaign have been strategically posted around the city limits and, according to Deputy City Manager for Operations John Whitehead, are partly responsible for reducing crime and litter in the areas they are posted. The signs, paid for with a Deep South Regional Municipal Solid Waste Management Authority grant, support the Mayor and Council's goal of educating the public on the environmental harm that litter has on our community.

"Most people do not realize that litter is an environmental hazard," said Whitehead.

As a 4th grader, Jediah Grey entered her slogan in a local contest. "I wanted to be involved in keeping the city clean and encouraging others to do the same," she said. Grey, now a student at Valdosta High School, said she is proud to know her slogan is making a difference in her community.

For more information about the anti-littering campaign, contact the Public Works Department at (229) 259-3588.

VFD Promotes Nine

Nine Valdosta Fire Department personnel were promoted on May 17 at a ceremony held at Fire Station #1. To be eligible for promotion, the firefighters received credit for training, experience, education, a series of tests, and a promotion assessment.

Nathan Huffmaster and Ronald Shoemake were promoted to the rank of lieutenant. The following VFD personnel were promoted to the rank of sergeant: Carolyn McMillan, Isaac Harris, Wade Briggs, Anthony Solberg, Robert Mercer, Jordan Washington and Marcus Haynes.

Currently, there are 106 personnel in the Valdosta Fire Department, which is made up of seven fire stations strategically placed throughout the city limits. For more information, contact the Valdosta Fire Department at (229) 333-1835.

Mosquito Control: Everyone Should Play a Part

The City of Valdosta is committed to doing everything in its power to help decrease the mosquito population in the area. However, the city can only spray in public areas and on public streets, so it's important for citizens to help keep the mosquito population under control. You can reduce the mosquito populations in your area by removing standing water, where mosquitoes can breed, from around your home and worksite.

Here are some general guidelines to follow to minimize the incidence of mosquitoes and our exposure to the diseases they transmit.

 Remove all standing water from your yard by bringing indoors or emptying and cleaning all containers, even very small ones. For example, do not leave toys that can retain water outside; remove saucers from under flower pots; clean or remove pool covers; clean pools and add chlorinated water; cover rain barrels with mosquito proof netting; and clean rain gutters and rain spouts.

 If you have standing water in your yard, you may apply larvicide to control mosquitoes in the larval stage. Free larvicide tablets are available to all residents of the City of Valdosta and can be picked up at the Public Works Department, located at 1017 Myrtle Street, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

 Organize or participate in clean-up activities to pick up garbage from parks and other public spaces. By helping to limit potential breeding grounds for mosquitoes, every resident can contribute to reducing the nuisance caused by mosquitoes and stop the transmission of vector-borne diseases.

As always, wear long pants, long-sleeved shirts and socks when you are outdoors during times that mosquitoes are most active, though it is best to avoid outdoor activities during these times. Also, be sure to use insect repellent containing DEET when outdoors. Please read and follow the manufacturer's instructions carefully, and do not use on infants or pregnant women.

If you have any questions about mosquito safety, please call the South Health District at (229) 333-5290. Additional information is also available at the city's web site at www.valdostacity.com.

Keep Contaminants Out of Our Water

If you're planning to do some yard improvements this summer, you should remember that stormwater runoff from yard maintenance has been found to contain high concentrations of fertilizers and pesticides. When pesticides wash into local waters, they can harm fish and contaminate the water. Fertilizers contain nutrients such as phosphorus and nitrogen that can cause aquatic algae blooms and promote bacterial growth which can degrade water quality.

Here are some tips on how you can help keep contaminants out of our water.

- Schedule landscape projects for dry weather. If it begins to rain, store material under plastic tarps to protect them from washing away.
- Store pesticides, fertilizers, and other chemicals in a secure and covered area.
- Don't blow or rake leaves into the street or storm drain.
- Don't over fertilize or apply chemicals near ditches, streams, or water bodies.

For more information on how to help prevent stormwater pollution in our area, contact Stormwater Superintendent Emily Davenport at (229) 259-3592.

City Residency Requirement Removed for Appointments

An amendment to the Boards, Commissions, Authorities, and Advisory Committees Appointment Policy, approved by the Mayor and Council at the April 8 City Council meeting, removes the residency requirement for applicants. Section 7 of the policy now allows any Lowndes County resident who desires to serve the City of Valdosta to be considered for an appointment. The recent change opens these public service opportunities to a larger pool of individuals who are interested in the welfare of our community as a whole.

Three appointments will be considered at the August 5 Council meeting. Applications for these appointments must be received by July 28:

Valdosta Tree Commission – 2 vacancies

Valdosta/Lowndes Zoning Board of Adjustments & Appeals – 1 vacancy

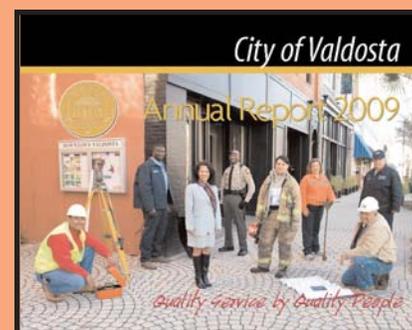

Public Art Advisory Committee – 1 vacancy

Citizens seeking appointment should first review the membership requirements and the Code of Ethics booklet, complete an application, and sign a Code of Ethics form, all of which are available at City Hall, at 216 East Central Avenue. All of this information can also be conveniently downloaded at www.valdostacity.com.

Appointments are made by the City Council from the pool of qualified applications and are typically for two years. Citizens may choose an area to serve based on individual interests and work experiences.

To learn more about getting involved with your local government by serving on one of these entities, contact City Clerk Teresa Bolden at (229) 259-3503 or at tbolden@valdostacity.com.

Workcamp Helps Eliminate Substandard Homes in City

Over 100 youth from around the country will spend part of their summer vacation serving the citizens of Valdosta through the Southern Hospitality Group Workcamp, June 13-19. These “campers” will be repairing over 20 substandard houses in just five days. This will be the city’s fifth year of hosting this event, which brings in youth to perform basic home repairs, painting and minor construction at no cost to elderly or disabled homeowners. Lowe’s Distribution Center is the official project co-sponsor.

The home sites were selected by the City of Valdosta and each meet the qualifying criteria, which include: owner occupied; elderly homeowner (62 years of age or older); income meets HUD low/moderate income criteria; if not elderly, then disabled and meets income criteria; home needs minor repairs and it is in one of the focus areas identified by the City of Valdosta.

The annual Workcamp supports the city’s goal to eliminate substandard housing in our community by year 2020. In addition to the City of Valdosta and Lowe’s, sponsors include the the Valdosta City School System and Group Workcamp Foundations, Inc. Local Habitat for Humanity staff members will be on site as coaches for the event.

For more information about the Group Workcamps Foundation go to www.group-workcamps.com or contact the Public Involvement Department at (229) 259-3522.

City Continues Recycling Efforts with Grant Funding

The City of Valdosta continues to expand its efforts to reduce the amount of recyclables being disposed of in the landfill, with funding from a Solid Waste Trust Fund Grant received in 2008. The city provides a variety of recycling opportunities for residents in the city, in the unincorporated areas of Lowndes County and in surrounding communities within a 50-mile radius.

Operating a single-stream or co-mingled recycle process for its customers, the City of Valdosta is the only municipality in South Georgia to offer curbside recycling services and is the only transfer hub or host hub in the region.

For more information about the city’s recycling efforts, visit the Public Works web page at www.valdostacity.com, or contact the department at (229) 259-3599.

Properly Dispose of “Toxic Trash”

Since 2007, the city has partnered with Care Environmental Corporation to secure a clean and healthy environment for future generations by helping citizens properly dispose of hazardous household waste. As a result of this partnership, City of Valdosta citizens may bring their “toxic trash”--such as paint cans, aerosol cans, chemicals, oil, batteries of any kind, etc.--to Care Environmental, each Friday, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The hazardous waste transfer, storage and processing facility will basically accept almost anything that should not typically be thrown in the city garbage bins.

Care Environmental is located at 714 Gil Harbin Industrial Blvd. For more information about how to properly dispose of your hazardous household waste, contact the company at (229) 242-6565.

Have you been dreaming about owning your own home but don’t know where to get started? A comprehensive home buyer education workshop is held on the third Saturday of every month, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Georgia Department of Labor, located at 221 S. Ashley Street. The presentation covers topics such as financial and credit preparation, purchase process, loan options, first-time homebuyer programs, and much more. Open the Door to a Census Taker and Open Doors for your Community

By being counted, you are standing up for your community's needs. That's why census takers are so important. A census taker is a person from your community who is hired by the U.S. Census Bureau to make sure that your neighborhood gets represented as accurately as possible.

Door-to-door census taking occurs in May, June and early July 2010. Local census takers will visit households that did not mail back a census form. All census takers carry an official badge and a shoulder bag — both with the Department of Commerce seal — and a binder. During a visit, census takers will show ID and hand respondents an information sheet explaining that their answers are confidential. The census taker will complete the questionnaire, which should take about 10 minutes. If no one is home, a "notice of visit" will be left at the door inviting the resident to call the census taker to complete the form over the phone.

Open your door to the census taker, and help move our community forward.

This event, which will involve the burial of a time capsule filled with significant pieces of information for the future generations, will take place prior to the first Valdosta High Wildcat home football game of the season.

For more information on how you can be involved, please contact Public Information Officer Sementha Mathews at (229) 259-3548 or at smathews@valdostacity.com.
